

time they may hope for some foreign intervention or complication. Great Britain must, therefore, push the war with the utmost vigor and must not spare any effort to keep the navy and the home defense forces in the utmost efficiency, ready for any emergency.

General Hector MacDonald's wound has nearly healed. He accompanied the brigade to Bloemfontein.

Lord Roberts's comments upon the earlier operations of the war in the London Gazette and his absolute silence respecting Lord Methuen's dispatch are regarded as very significant. The Times observes that this silence is perhaps more significant than words, especially when connected with the fact that Lord Methuen no longer takes any prominent part in the campaign.

BLOEMFONTEIN INCIDENTS.

Wounded Boers Made Happy—Roberts to Lead His Army Into Pretoria.

LONDON, March 16.—General Roberts reports that he found seven British officers and forty-three men wounded in the hospital at Bloemfontein and that they had been well treated. He added that "I rejoiced the wounded Boers by telling them that they will be allowed to proceed to their home instead of being made prisoners, as soon as they can leave the hospital."

Lord Roberts's success in handling the civil problems at Bloemfontein and the manifest equanimity with which the residents of the capital of the Orange Free State accept the British occupation momentarily eclipse in interest the military situation. It is believed here that the commander-in-chief of the British forces in South Africa will soon push on to Pretoria, but that Great Britain is quite content to listen for a few days to the acclamations of the people of Bloemfontein and permit the troops to enjoy a few days' rest before expecting further success. Lord Roberts made a quiet speech to the troops at Bloemfontein to-day when in his first congratulatory words he expressed pride in their splendid march of thirty-eight miles in twenty-six hours and gave ample assurance of his ultimate design. "Through a mistake," he said, "I have not been able to march into Bloemfontein at the head of the brigade, as I intended. I promise you, however, that I will lead you into Pretoria."

Dispatches from Bloemfontein say General Pretorius is succeeding admirably as governor of the town. He issued a proclamation yesterday requesting the burghers within a radius of ten miles to deliver up their arms, assuring them they would be paid for the confiscation of their property. Lord Roberts is about to issue fresh proclamations which, it is considered, will have the effect of disarming further opposition on the part of the Free Staters. Mr. Colville has been appointed to succeed Mr. Pappas as mayor. Great quantities of stores captured at Waterfall have been recovered. As the result of Hunter's and Weston's line-cutting the British have secured the Orange engines and the line has been cleared to the Kaffir river. Rumors are current that President Steyn is willing to surrender. Much unrest is shown in the Dutch population. The burghers described the soldiers as looting, saying they are innumerable and of doubtful loyalty with their arms and horses. The Free Staters south of Bloemfontein are reported to be rapidly returning to their farms. General Gatacre is attempting to escape to the north. He has a large command and a big convoy of supplies. The majority of the townspeople anticipate that the Free Staters will offer no resistance.

THE MAGERSFONTEIN DISASTER.

Lord Methuen's Official Report—Tribute to General Wauchop.

LONDON, March 16.—The London Gazette this evening publishes General Lord Methuen's report of the actions at Magersfontein, Dec. 10 and 11, dated from the Modder river, Feb. 15. After explaining the difficulties of any attempt to outflank sixteen thousand Boers, and arguing that it was intended to do and the British had been dealt at the Boer center at Magersfontein would be more effective, he says his orders were to relieve Kimberley, and therefore, the day the last reinforcements arrived, he decided to attack Magersfontein kopje. The general then proceeds to describe the artillery bombardment of the position, and how the Highland brigade was led to the point of assault after the late Maj. Gen. Andrew Hunter was seriously wounded. He explained all the details of the battle, and how each battalion was expected to play. Lord Methuen then says: "Two rifles accidentally went off and the flashes from a lantern gave the enemy timely notice of the attack. The report then proceeds to show Gen. Wauchop deployed his men too late, and suddenly the Boers poured in a heavy fire. General Hughes-Hallett, the orderly officer of the Scottish force, and the other commanders followed suit. At this moment some one gave the order to retire. The ranks of the Black Watch rushed back to the ranks of the Scottish. Colonel Hughes-Hallett, who had been ordered to retire, did not retire. After awhile the column again tried to reach the trenches, four hundred feet off, but the Boers were ready enough to fall before the heavy fire which opened after the men moved. Ten minutes later the Scottish force was again ordered to retire with the same result. Colonel Hughes-Hallett then decided to wait orders.

After describing sending the Gordons and Guards to support the Highland brigade, Lord Methuen continues: "At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the Scottish force were exposed to a heavy cross fire, the order to retire was given, and the great part of the casualties then occurred. This was an unfortunate retirement. The British were given instructions to retain their position until ordered to retire. The Scottish force, however, did not retire. The report then proceeds to pay a high tribute to the conduct of all the troops, and mentions specially a number of officers and men for distinguished acts of valor, already recorded in the newspaper despatches.

GERMANY'S REPLY TO KRUGER.

WILLING to Assist in Mediation When Great Britain Is Ready.

PIETRIORIA, March 16, via Lorenzo Marques, March 15.—The German consul has handed the following dispatch to President Kruger: "The government of Germany and the Emperor will be glad and ready to assist in any friendly mediation which the fundamental conditions to such are apparent, as soon as it is demonstrated that both opponents desire mediation. Neither the desire already exists on the British side nor is it found by the republics on direct inquiry at London or through the good offices of a third government which has no special interests of its own to consider in South Africa. The latter assumption is qualified with a number of nations in and outside Europe, but not with Germany. Any such step on the part of the German government would awaken suspicion and have other than a humanitarian view. The increased mistrust thereby engendered would not promote a peaceable settlement. The request of the republics to transmit their appeal for mediation to the Austro-Hungarian and Swiss governments, whose interests are watched by the German consulate, has been immediately fulfilled."

The Outlook's Fears.

LONDON, March 16.—Outlook, commenting on Lord Salisbury's reply to the United States offer of mediation, says: "Like M. Delcasse, President McKinley must himself see that this puts an end to all talk of 'friendly good offices' on the part of any outside power. But President McKinley, who the French premier is a factor in that most awkward factor, his November presidential election, and we know not what even the best of Presidents can be led to do at such times. Let us be thankful we have a President, not a Sackville-West at Washington, for we shall need all our tact and firmness there next few months."

CECIL RHODES TALKS.

He Complains of the "Bungling of the Home Authorities."

LONDON, March 17.—The Daily Mail publishes an interview this morning with Cecil Rhodes, secured by Mr. Julian Ralph, in the course of which, complaining of the "bungling of the home authorities," he said: "General Buller's extraordinary orders to Lord Methuen were to relieve Kimberley, to take all the people away, and to fall back to Orange river. You people in England have such wonderful ideas about Buller's generalship; but such retreat would have been monstrous."

Mr. Rhodes declared that there had only been 30,000 Boers in the field altogether and that the foreign mercenaries were only about 15,000. The numbers of the Boers, he said, had been exaggerated in order to explain the British reverses.

Views of Cecil Rhodes.

CAPE TOWN, March 15.—In an interview published in the Cape Argus, Mr. Cecil Rhodes is quoted as saying: "I feel strongly that we cannot have peace in South Africa so long as the republics are rallying ground for disloyalty and dissatisfaction. To go further, I do not think we can safely federate till we have had some years of crown colony government. Personally, I have done with the bond."

GEN. GATACRE BLUNDERED.

Lord Roberts's Comments on the Report of the Stormberg Reverse.

LONDON, March 16, 7:42 p. m.—Lord Roberts, in transmitting General Gatacre's report of the Stormberg defeat, gives his opinions thus: "The failure was mainly due to reliance on inaccurate information regarding the ground to be traversed to the position held by the Boers, to the employment of too large a force, and to the men being tired out by a long night march before they came in contact with the enemy. When it became evident, shortly after midnight, that the guides were leading the column in the wrong direction, I considered Gatacre should have halted and endeavored to find proper road or should have fallen back to Molteno rather than have risked the safety of the entire force by following a route which brought the troops into difficult ground commanded on both sides by Boers."

KRUGER TOO HASTY.

He Is Said to Have Annexed the Free State Last Tuesday.

BETHULIE, Orange Free State, March 16.—General Gatacre, on arriving here, found that all the Boers had fled. The town was nearly deserted, the Dutch having trekked on hearing of the occupation of Bloemfontein. It is believed that the Boers retired in the direction of Dewet's camp. The telegraph is open to Springfield. It is understood here that President Kruger two days ago annexed the Orange Free State to the South African Republic.

VANZYL, Thursday, March 16.—The bridge over the Orange river here has been completed. The British forces have crossed and to-night they are bivouacking on Free State soil.

ON THE VAAL RIVER.

Boers Intrenching to Resist Invasion—Disgruntled Generals.

LONDON, March 17.—The Daily Mail has the following dispatch from Lorenzo Marques, dated Friday, March 16: "Intrenching is proceeding on the Vaal river at Vereeniging. 'Late arrivals from Pretoria say that the Boers themselves now admit that their cause is hopeless. General Lucas Meyer refuses to fight again and has returned to his farm. General Buller has also returned, and the burghers are going home by hundreds.'"

Brabant Lacks Artillery.

JAMESTOWN, Cape Colony, March 15.—There was much enthusiasm at Allwal North when General Buller's troops occupied that place. Commandant Oliver, the Boer commander, apologized for the action of the Boers during the last three days of the occupation, saying he could not control his men. The British were intrenched on the Free State side of the Orange river, with the Boers holding an advantageous position on the other side. Brabant is greatly hampered owing to the lack of artillery, having only two fifteen-pounders.

Not Chased by a Warship.

LONDON, March 16.—The reports published in the United States that the British warship Thetis was chasing the German steamer Kaiser, off Delagoa bay, the Kaiser having Boer soldiers on board, was published in the Daily Mail of this city, together with a denial of the statement. The officials of the Foreign Office say the idea of the officers of a British warship attempting to chase a foreigner from a German vessel is "utterly impossible and absurd."

The Strathcona Horse.

HALIFAX, N. S., March 16.—The Strathcona Horse Regiment and one hundred recruits to fill vacancies in the first Canadian contingent in South Africa embarked on the transport Monterey to-day. The troops were given a grander send-off than that accorded to previous bodies. The troops landed at the armories and were inspected by Gen. Lord William Seymour, Governor of the Cape, and by Lord Milford. Each of the officials named addressed the troops, complimenting them highly.

Portuguese Military Expedition.

LONDON, March 17.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says: "A military force of seventy officers and 712 men will sail for Lourenco Marques Tuesday next. This will include a battery of artillery and a squadron of cavalry."

Boers May Not Go to St. Helena.

LONDON, March 17.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: "The Boer prisoners, I learn, will be detained indefinitely on board the transports, and the Free Staters will perhaps be spared the trip to St. Helena."

Message from Mafeking.

LONDON, March 16.—A private telegram received at Liverpool is as follows: "My dispatch rider to Kimberley: Mafeking March 16.—Going strong. The meaning of the dispatch is not clear."

The Hospital Ship Maine.

DURBAN, March 15.—The American ladies' hospital ship Maine will leave Saturday. She will remain in the Mediterranean a short period for the benefit of the patients on board.

Casualties at Dreifontein.

LONDON, March 16.—It was officially announced to-day that the British casualties at Dreifontein March 10 were sixty-two men killed and 221 wounded, including one Canadian wounded.

Naval Heroes Returning Home.

CAPE TOWN, March 15.—The British first-class cruiser Powerful, with the naval brigade which has been operating against the Boers in South Africa, sailed for England to-day.

An Eye to Future Investigations.

Chicago Tribune.—I want $10,000 more for the purpose of... Candidate for Montana Senatorship—Stop! I don't care to know what you want for it. I will not knowingly be a party to anything like bribery. Here's a check for the amount."

SENT TO HENRY COUNTY.

CASE OF THE DIEHL, HELD FOR MARY FARWIG'S MURDER.

Double Tragedy in Pike County—Serious Fire at Bloomfield—Movements of the Politicians.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MUNCIE, Ind., March 16.—John Diehl, of Anderson, this morning petitioned the Circuit Court, by his attorneys, for a change of venue in the case against him and his brother, Frank Diehl, who, with Dr. Leach, of this city, are charged with being accomplices to the death of Miss Mary Farwig, formerly of Richmond and Anderson.

Mr. Diehl declared he did not believe he could get justice in Delaware county, because of the case being so familiar in this city. Objection was also raised out of court against Madison or Wayne counties, but the judge was left to refer the case to wherever locality he may choose. The petition was granted this afternoon and the case was stricken from the Delaware circuit docket and sent to Henry county.

Double Tragedy in Pike.

PETERSBURG, Ind., March 16.—Alfred Gregory, a Pike county farmer, yesterday shot his wife and killed himself, at their home, near Winslow, because she failed to provide him with hot water for scalding shoes. He fired four shots at his wife, one lodging in the arm, another in the neck. While seriously wounded, it is thought Mrs. Gregory will recover. Gregory then shot himself through the heart. The tragedy took place at 10 o'clock at night. In the morning Gregory made arrangements to kill his wife and requested his wife to heat water for him, but it is stated, she went visiting instead and neglected to comply with the demand. This angered Gregory, who upbraided her on her return, and at various times throughout the evening the quarrel was renewed, culminating in attempted murder and suicide at bed-time. The couple had six children. They formerly lived in Daviess county.

LACKEY HORSE SALE.

Spirited Bidding and Good Prices Despite the Bad Weather.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., March 16.—Blustery winter weather had a decided effect on the attendance at the John S. Lackey horse sale to-day, but notwithstanding this fact the buyers were out in good force, and while a good many bargains were secured, yet the prevailing price was up to the average of the preceding days. Quite a number of rough and undeveloped youngsters were sold at low figures, and a good many individuals took in the benefit of these bargains. The class of horses does not, and a ready market from the fact that the class of buyers from the larger cities attending this sale want stock that is matured and which can "step down the line" and carry the breeding qualifications of racers as well as about seventy-nine horses were sold to-day. The sale closes to-morrow. Following are some of the sales to-day: Isaac Bates, Cincinnati, b. m. Leland H. sold to Edward Gilles, Boston, $1,115. J. C. Tappan & Son, Albany, b. m. Dan T. Daniel, K.
